No Looking Back

In 1948 when Itawamba Community College was Itawamba Junior College, things were very different than they are more than five decades later.

IJC, which was an extension of Itawamba Agricultural High School, started with 144 students who paid only $12 per semester for tuition.

Young women who were enrolled faced more restrictions than those today. They were only allowed to go out one night a week and were not allowed to ride in vehicles. The average student then was 18 to 19 years old. Today, the average student is 20 something.

Clockwise from top left, Social Science instructor Charles Riley registers students in 1978. Non-traditional student David Vance works on an assignment. Amanda Tackett returns from a shopping trip. A Brand New Look

In 1984 the construction of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway had an impact on Itawamba Community College's building program. Initially, the College lost 149 acres, but the waterway's construction opened up some land. It is on this land that ICC constructed outdoor athletic facilities such as the tennis courts and football and baseball fields.

Not one building on the Fulton campus today existed when the college began. This year, a new male residence hall, Chickasaw, is under construction. And, the college has adopted a new logo as it continues to develop "A Brand New Look."

Look at Us Now

Itawamba Community College's programs and activities have expanded tremendously since 1948.

In the beginning, the science classes didn't have labs, but today they all do. Also, computer classes did not exist. Today, every resident student has an internet hookup. There are also more resident students as well as more leisure opportunities. ICC has many allied health programs such as surgical technology and radiologic technology. Even though ICC has changed throughout the years, its purpose remains the same: to benefit and educate students. ICC does this by recognizing the changing needs of students, society and industry.

The students of Itawamba Community College were active this year.
They balanced their class time, study time and "play" time.
Whether it was taking notes in class, doing last-minute homework, or playing games in the Student Activities Center, ICC's students always managed to do what students have always done. . .have a good time.

Michael Little, Micheal Newman and Ashley Oaks have a serious discussion outside the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center.

At Itawamba Community College, times have changed, and new programs have come and gone. Relatively everything has changed, but everything has stayed the same.

Life still revolves around making friends, taking tests, graduating and finding jobs.

The way we are and what we do may change, but the people you meet and friends you make stay the same.

Itawamba Community College, once called Itawamba Junior College, changed its name in 1988 because it wanted to involve the local community in its daily service.

The community college today sponsors such activities as blood drives, trick-or-treating for area children, food collection for the needy as well as offering a variety of classes to upgrade the workforce. A career expo this year gave area high school students the opportunity to find how they can best utilize their talents.

Itawamba Community College has acquired a greater respect than ever before. Not only do young high school students plan to attend Itawamba Community College, but so do many adults who have opportunities in both career enhancement as well as classes for transfer.

Also, due to the wide variety of activities for student involvement, it is no wonder why people choose ICC over other colleges.

Looking at the news

Students at ICC not only spent hours studying, but they also knew how to become involved. Those participating in student elections, pageants, club events and campus activities have become this year's newsmakers. Special events included graduation, Homecoming, Mr. and Miss ICC election, Hall of Fame, beauty review, Miss ICC pageant and Indian Week.

Homecoming Court features Pounders

Gloomy, rainy skies didn't prevent Homecoming '02 activities, Oct. 26. Activities during the week included pep rallies on both the Fulton and Tupelo campuses.

One of the highlights of Saturday's activities was the presentation of the Homecoming Court.

Escorts were Davis Bond, Daniel Bunch, Patrick Chism, Tyler Cook, Jason Pickens, Zack Jones, Eric Perry, Matthew Wallace and Tom Campbell.

Randle wins Most Beautiful

"Cheering on the Beauties" was a fitting theme for the 2003 pageant since ICC cheerleader Rebecca Randle of Amory took the title.

She was selected from the 45 contestants which included runners-up Mallary Quinn Simmons, first; Brandi Turner, second; Kayla Fleming, third; and Miranda Perry, fourth.

The other top 20 contestants included Anna Strickland, Mary Rodgers, Kimberly Mitchell, Jennifer White, Brittainy Childers, Erin Witcher, Candice Walker, Julie Rogers, Beth Burnette, Chelsy Nicole King, Lesley Miranda Scott, Sarah Lynn Hill, Carly Parker and Danielle Smith.

Campus committee picks 80 for Who's Who

ICC students chosen as outstanding leaders

The 2003 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges will include the names of 80 students from Itawamba Community College who have been selected as outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

They join an elite group from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since 1966.

More than 300 earn degrees

Ford delivers commencement address.

Judge Barry W. Ford of Jackson delivered the address for the 2002 commencement ceremony at ICC, May 10, at 7:30 p.m. at Lambert Stadium at the Fulton Campus. More than 300 students received Associate of Arts and Associate of Applied Sciences degrees or certificates. In addition, Associate Degree Nursing graduates received their pins in a 5:30 p.m. ceremony. Almost 200 of the graduates began the day by attending a breakfast sponsored by the Alumni Association followed by practice at 10 a.m. Ford served three terms as Circuit Court District judge for Mississippi. Top students earn honors

Itawamba Community College's outstanding students were recognized during Honors Day ceremonies on both campuses last spring. The Fulton campus recognition was held April 17, 2002 in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center auditorium while the Tupelo event was April 23, 2002 in the Multi-Purpose Building. Ovid Vickers of Decatur, retired English professor from East Central Community College, discussed Mississippi writers and folklore during the keynote address at Fulton. Division and departmental honorees on both campuses received certificates. On the Tupelo campus, special recognitions were also presented to Hall of Fame and organization state winners.

’Jam provides pre-exam break

Every year since 1974, Itawamba Community College students have been jammin’ the week before spring semester exams.

Indian Week or Indiam Jam, as it’s better known, this year featured several activities including daily entertainment, a cookout at the Crane Pavilion, activities by Paradyme Entertainment Group, tournaments in the Student Activities Center, a talent show, party and free food and drinks.

Tupelo campus students participated in a variety of activities on Wednesday. They danced to the music of Stumpwater, and competed in a hula hoop contest, disk throw, golf putt and 3-on-3 basketball.

Looking at sports

With the ingredients of great winners, Itawamba Community College's coaches combined the players' work, integrity, nerve, sportsmanship and heart in all sports. The college competed in baseball, men's and women's basketball, golf, soccer, softball and men's and women's tennis. Coach Carrie Ball began her first year as athletic director, replacing Tommy Morton, who retired last spring.

Indians fail to make playoffs with loss to Holmes

The Itawamba Indians started the 2002 season with a new head coach, three new assistants and one fifth of the 55-member roster as returnees.

Although the team failed to make the playoffs with a key loss to Holmes, the Indians "played hard," Coach Jeff Terrill said.

Several players made the All-State team including Aaron Knowles, first team; Larry Clark, Edward Lockett, Deonte Tanniehill, Odie Armstrong, Dusty Finley, second team; Jason Bond, Jermaine Dawson, Joseph Leech, Michael Morris, Caleb Chandler, Mario Brown, Alton Pettway, Ricardo Clark, Greg Mooneyham and Randy Shumpert, honorable mention. Gulf Coast 21, ICC 14

Special teams made the difference for Gulf Coast which had a punt return for a touchdown to start the second half. Quarterback Dusty Finley led a comeback attempt with time running out. On fourth down from the 8-yard line, his pass to Michael Morris in the end zone fell short.

Hinds 36, ICC 7

The eleventh-ranked Hinds Eagles scored 36 first half points to defeat visiting Itawamba. ICC scored its TD in the first half on a Dusty Finley pass.

ICC 6, Northwest 5

Itawamba defeated Northwest on a rain-soaked field in Senatobia before an estimated crowd of 350. Indian tailback Odie Armstrong scored on an eight-yard run with 3 minutes, 56 seconds left to play. The pass for the two point conversion failed, but the Indians held on for the win.

East Mississippi 23, ICC 13

A long kick return and a touchdown pass rallied East Mississippi for the win that gave the Indians a 1-1 division record. Finley, who was injured in the Northwest game, entered the contest in the second half. In two quarters, he completed 10 of 15 pass attempts for 175 yards and two touchdowns.

Northeast 35, ICC 19

On a wet muddy Keenum Stadium field in Booneville, the Indians' spirits were dampened with the loss to the Tigers, their first victory since 1987. ICC running back Odie Armstrong rushed 21 times for 68 yards.

ICC 42, Coahoma 12

The Indians picked up a key division win to keep playoff hopes alive. ICC led 35-0 on the strength of TDs by Armstrong, Randy Shumpert, and Knowles. Coahoma added two late touchdowns with most of ICC's starters out.

ICC 36, Mississippi Delta 33

Again playing on a soggy field, the Indians posted a thrilling come-from-behind Homecoming victory. With 2 minutes, 12 seconds left in the game, Finley found Deonte Tanniehill across the middle on a slant pattern for an 82-yard touchdown. Tanniehill outjumped Demarea Caldwell on the play, then broke two tackles enroute to the end zone.

Holmes 24, ICC 21

ICC had a shot at the playoffs, but fumbled it away. "I'm proud of our kids, they played hard," Terrill said. "We just had too many turnovers if you expect to beat a good team." With the loss, the Indians left their playoff hopes on the field in Goodman.

The 2002 Itawamba Community College cheerleaders began their year by winning second place in the chant champion competition at the UCA College Cheer Camp which was held in Tuscaloosa at the University of Alabama, July 18-20.

Through all the summer heat, the squad practiced human pyramids, tumbling, dancing and other skills necessary to become superior.

ICC's cheerleaders cheered at every pep rally, football game and basketball game.

The cheerleaders also hosted two camps during the summer at the Fulton campus. Junior Cheer Camp for second through sixth graders was held June 15. And, cheer camp for junior high, high school and private squads was held June 10-11.

The squad also served as an active part of area grammar school programs.

Judith Naden is in her fourth year as cheerleading sponsor and in her sixth as athletic department secretary. "This is an outstanding squad with exceptional talent," Naden said.

"I have enjoyed cheering for ICC for the past two years," said sophomore Anna Strickland of Belmont. "I will always treasure the friendships and memories I've made while on the squad.

ICC basketball teams in division fight

At final yearbook deadline, the Itawamba Indians and Lady Indians were in the middle of a successful season.

Coaching and player dedication led to a fight for division titles, with each win more important than the last.

The record for the Lady Indians was 14-5, and 3-3 in the North Division while the Indians were 14-4 and 5-1 in the division.

The highlight of the season for both teams was on Jan. 28, when the Indians and Lady Indians beat the Northeast teams on their home court in the Bonner Arnold Coliseum in Booneville.

From left,

Basketball

Lady Indians upset Lady Bulldogs and Lady Tigers.

Amanda Aron shoots the three over a Lady Bulldog from Holmes.

The 2002-03 Itawamba Community Lady Indians basketball team began the season with a rocky start.

But much practice and dedication turned the season around. The team was 14-5 in late January, and 3-3 in North Division play.

"I feel that the players are playing hard, and we are doing the things we need to do to be successful," said Coach Carrie Ball, who is in her tenth season. This year, in addition to her coaching duties, Ball served as athletic director, the first female to serve in that capacity at ICC.

Overall, Ball said that the Lady Indians were a young team with nine freshmen and five sophomores.

Ball called the win against Holmes which was previously unbeaten in division play "really big. We have had a tough time in division games, and maybe this can help us get on a roll."

And something must have worked. The Lady Indians ripped into Coahoma's Lady Tigers in the next game with a lopsided 78-40 win.

The following game was possibly the biggest of the Lady Indians' season. . .a 68-59 win over rival Northeast Mississippi Community College's Lady Tigers on their home court in Booneville.

"It's just so hard to win here," Ball said immediately after the game. "This is the toughest place in the state to play."

Despite being a young team, the 2002-03 Itawamba Indians managed a 14-4 record in late January while being 5-2 in the North Division.

At the begining of the season, Coach Marty Cooper was unsure of how his team would perform.

To achieve success, the Indians had to work hard and perfect their strong defense.

As the calendar was about to flip over on February, the Indians were giving up only 69 points per game.

With only two sophomores, O'Brian Lowe of Nettleton and Roy Hazzle of Aberdeen, the Indians managed a tie for second place in the North Division.

"This year has been a pleasant surprise with the number of freshmen we have," Cooper said.

The last week of January was the Indians' most difficult, playing two road games at rivals Northeast and Northwest. The Indians beat Northeast, 63-58, rallying from a 17-point second half deficit for the victory.

Next, the Indians suffered a heart breaking defeat in overtime at Northwest.

They began a huge three-game home stand starting Feb. 3 against Mississippi Delta, which they beat in December. Other games were East Mississippi, Northwest Shoals and Holmes before closing the season at home against Northeast, Feb. 20.

Fall season tunes up players for spring

The fall season is a critical aspect of the Itawamba Community College baseball program.

The coaches always use the season to examine each player's abilities and define each player's role on the team.

It was especially important for new head coach Rick Collier and assistant Justin Entrekin.

One highlight of the season was the Indians come-from-behind victory against Southern Union. "They showed a lot of heart," Collier said of his team. "We did a good job of battling back and finding a way to win."

Fall 2002 turned out to be a very productive season, according to Collier, who expressed confidence about his squad for spring 2003.

The spring season was scheduled to open Feb. 7.

From left,
Reid Hawkins catches the ball for an out in an intra-squad game. John Ross McCartney looks at the pop-up. Bryan Williamson goes home to score. Louis Lee tries to steal base. Drew Jaudon pitches. Jim McCullough gets the third out.

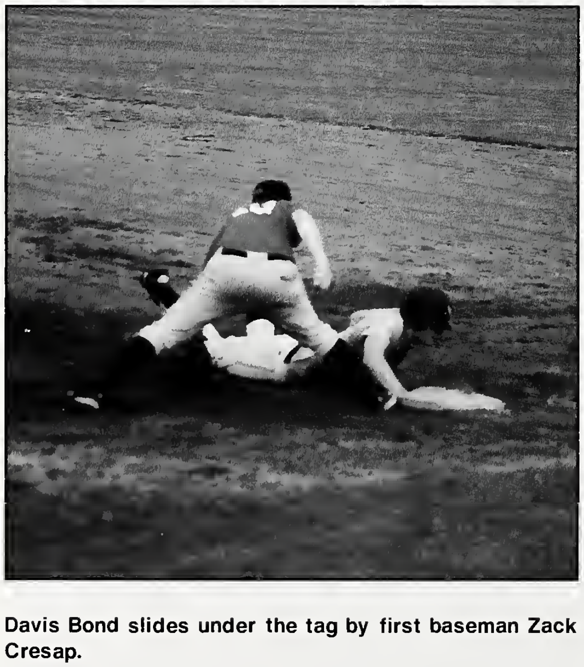
Baseball

Expectations high for spring 2003 team after 6-2 fall season.



Davis Bond slides under the tag by first baseman Zack Cresap.

After a 6-2 fall season, Itawamba Community College head baseball coach Rick Collier has set his expectation high for his team during the 2003 season.

Victories over Southern Union, East Central, Mississippi Delta, Southwest Tennessee State and Freed-Hardeman left no doubt about the team's ability to win, Collier said.

With only six weeks in the season to work, Collier and assistant coach Justin Entrekin were able to set the spring lineup.

Collier said that the returning players look good for the spring season, based on what he saw during the fall tune-up.

He has hopes for pitcher Jeremy King, pitcher/catcher Tim Dillard, shortstop Jim McCullough and utility player Reid Hawkins, all returning to ICC for another season.

With the opportunity to evaluate the players' abilities and working them at various positions during the intra-squad games, Collier knows the group of 30 will be ready for spring season practices, which were scheduled to begin the second week of January.

He said that he hopes to use what he has learned during the fall season to jump-start a successful season for the Diamond Indians.

The fall season was Collier's first to take the leadership role after the departure of Chuck Box, who became head coach at Freed-Hardeman. Collier, who had served as Box's assistant for three years, played baseball at Itawamba Community College and at Delta State University. He is a native of Mantachie.

The Itawamba Community College men's soccer team faced a long 2002 season.

Mike Sullivan, formerly coach of Meridian High School, began his first year at ICC with only three sophomores, just one among them being a returning player.

The young squad finished the round of division play with a 1-4 record, losing to Hinds, East Mississippi, Mississippi Delta and Northwest, and defeating Holmes as a result of a cancellation.

However, the Indians rebounded during the second go round.

They suffered a 7-0 loss to eventual state runner-up Hinds, but improved upon a prior 11-0 loss.

The Indians got their first win of the year against the East Mississippi Lions, winning resoundingly, 5-1. Next, they defeated Holmes in a hard-fought defensive matchup, 1-0.

The Indians got their third win in a row against the Mississippi Delta Trojans, 6-4.

The final game of the season was against Northwest, and ICC lost to the state contender, 3-2, but improved upon a prior 6-1 loss.

The Indians finished 4-6 overall in the division, beating East Mississippi and Holmes for fourth place.

With all but three players returning next season, Sullivan hopes to build on the nucleus of the 2002 team. With strong recruits, he's optimistic for the future of ICC's soccer team.

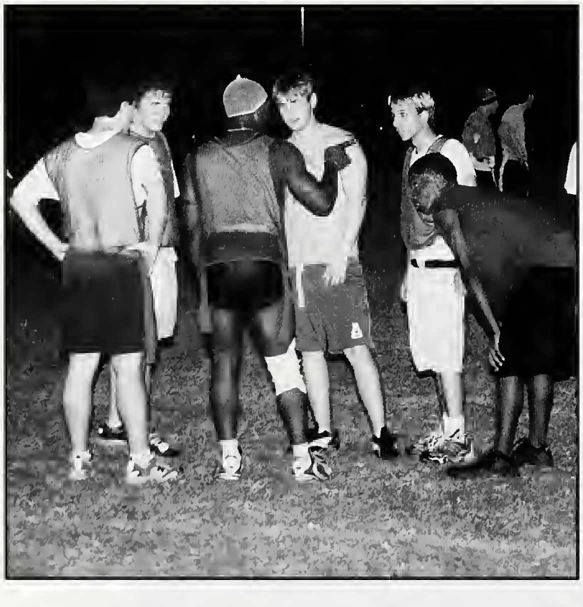
Students may participate in several activities.



Sam Henderson, Luke Washburn and Caleb Ozbirn receive instructions on their next play.

Each year the Student Activities division at Itawamba Community College provides many opportunities for students to participate in various activities.

And, many students took advantage of these programs during the 2002 fall and 2003 spring semesters.

An intramural sports program during the late afternoon and evening on the Fulton campus offered beach volleyball, flag football, 3 v 3 basketball, 5 v 5 basketball, softball and several tournaments throughout the year such as ping-pong, 8-ball pool and spades.

"Participating in intramurals this year helped me stay in shape and provided an alternative to sitting in the dorm," said participant Heath Capps.

Each year, the intramural program is voluntary and is open to all full-time students except for varsity athletes who are certified in the sport that is being played.

"Intramurals provided competition, exercise and a way of making new friends, all while having fun," said Luke Washburn.

Soccer coach Mike Sullivan served as the intramural director for 2002-03.

Spring athletes brave chilly start to season

January not only signals the beginning of a new calendar year, but also the beginning of Itawamba athletics for the second semester. ICC's tennis, baseball, softball and golf teams braved the chilly winter weather with hopes of blossoming into champions during the spring.

The spring 2002 squad that excelled was, without question, men's tennis. Coach Paul Johnson's team repeated as state champions and finished runner-up in regional competition. The Indians earned a bid to the national community college tournament in Dallas, TX where they ended the season 17th in the nation. Ron Winter and Matt Robinson teamed up for a state doubles title, while Winter and Jorge Zabrodiec achieved championship status in singles competition.

The Itawamba Community College Indians baseball team completed the spring 2002 season with a 29-14 record.

The diamond Indians missed the playoffs for the first time in four years by way of a tiebreaker with Holmes Community College of Goodman.

Itawamba did achieve a 17-7 North record and took 3 out of 4 from division rival the Northeast Tigers in the process.

Tim Dillard, who signed to play with the Ole Miss Rebels, and Scott Ellison were chosen in the major league draft.

Those who signed with four-year colleges included Jermaine Shack, with Mississippi Valley State University; Will Waldkirch, Delta State University; Curtis Pitt, Southern Missouri; Gabriel Figueroa, Freed-Hardeman University; Greg Davidson, Crichton College; and Bert Watkins, the University of Alabama at Huntsville.

The team was the last at Itawamba Community College coached by Chuck Box, who left for the head coaching job at Freed-Hardeman University.

His assistant, Rick Collier, a native of Mantachie, took the head coaching job.

Lady Indians advance to north division playoffs

With a record of 12-22, the Itawamba Community College Lady Indians softball team improved greatly in the spring of 2002 since the 2001 players didn't win a game.

The season started with new coach Teddy Bouchillon, who also serves as director of student housing. The team went all the way to the north division playoffs, due to the hard work and dedication of the players, Bouchillon said.

The team practiced almost every day, fine-tuning player skills as well as learning teamwork and sportsmanship.

Softball

Itawamba Community College softball coach Teddy Bouchillon said that one of the highlights of the 2002 season was making it all the way to the north division playoffs.

"It was a real testament to the hard work and dedication of the players throughout the season," Bouchillon said. "The Indians never gave up, and they continued to get better throughout the season."

One example of the team's dedication was the sponsorship of a pancake breakfast held at Applebee's in Tupelo to raise money to purchase uniforms.

The Lady Indians raised $1600 from the event, enough to outfit the team in the navy tops and pants with red/white/red trim as well as a white shirt for an alternate uniform.

Although going to the playoffs was a great experience for Bouchillon and his team, the first-time softball coach plans to use what he and his team learned on the way.

Another highlight of the '02 season was the 1-0 victory over arch-rival Northeast in Booneville behind the pitching of Carrie Hill.

"This game was one of the best of the season," Bouchillon said.

The Lady Indians ended the season with a 12-22 record, not the best, but a great improvement over the 2001 season record of 0-14.

Men win state title; women place second

Both the Itawamba Community College men and women had very successful tennis seasons for spring 2002.

The women placed second in the state and third in Region 23, while the men won the state title and finished second in the region.

The men's team also competed in the national tournament, finishing seventeenth in the nation.

Both teams were under the direction of Coach Paul Johnson.

The Itawamba Community College men's spring tennis team had its strongest showing ever at the national level in 2002.

After winning the state title and finishing second in the region, the Indians traveled to Dallas, Texas where they played in the men's national community college tournament.

The team finished seventeenth in the nation.

Individually, state champions were Jorge Zabrodiec in number 2 singles, Ron Winter in number 3 singles, and Matt Robinson and Ron Winter in number 3 doubles.

"The team has been working two days a week since September, and has improved its game, but I still think we need to continue to improve," said Coach Paul Johnson in a pre-season interview.

The men's team defeated Meridian Community College in its only fall match.

The regular spring season began on Feb. 23 with a home match against Meridian and concluded Apr. 26-28 at the state tournament in Hattiesburg.

The team had a tough challenge since the 2001 team also won the state title.

Five sophomores were gone from the '01 team, Johnson said. He counted heavily on returnees Robinson and Greg Simmons. Simmons was the highest finisher at the 2001 tourney with a number five singles title and with Robinson in a doubles title.

Between these two events, the Indians participated in the Jones Junior College Tournament at Pine Belt National, the Itawamba Community College Tournament at Big Oaks, the Northeast Community College Tournament at Shiloh Ridge, the Copiah-Lincoln Community College Tournament at Wolf Hollow and the Hinds Community College Tournament at Eagle Ridge.

Itawamba was led by freshman Scotty Patterson of Pontotoc, who had an average of 78.75 for the season. Cain Myers of Paris, Tenn. also provided solid play with an 80.50 average. Wade Fleming of Houston followed closely with an 80.875 average. Contributing team members included Chris Moore of Fulton, Justin Teasley and Trey Kirkpatrick of Houston, Kem Coleman of Amory and Ben Mattox of Aberdeen.

The 2001-02 Indians won 16 matches for a team average of 323.5 or 80.875 per player. The best team score was 311 at the state and Region 23 tournament. The best single individual score was 70 turned in by Patterson at the Jones Junior College Tournament. Overall, the Indians finished third in state and fourth in regional competition.

"Forestry will allow me to get a job in my favorite atmosphere, the outdoors."

Cullen Dendy

"Membership in the Agriculture Club gave me the opportunity to go on field trips and enhance my knowledge."

Ben Mattox

"The Agriculture Club has provided me the opportunity to meet people with similar initerests and promote the agricultural industry."

Brandon Armstrong

The Forestry Club and the Agribusiness Club were active during the 2002-2003 school year.

The Forestry Club visited the Ames Plantation in Tennessee, and speakers from the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Fisheries and Parks visited the Fulton campus to discuss career opportunities with members. Sponsor Joe Namie said that the members participated in Project Learning Tree which is an environmental education seminar. Another highlight of the year was club suppers. The Forestry Club was organized to promote forestry and related activities.

The Agribusiness Club raised money by selling fruit at Christmas, said sponsor Stephen Banes. The group also went on several field trips including the Chicago Board of Trade, Chicago Mercantile Exchange and the Mississippi Department of Agriculture.

CPNA • Science Club

How did you benefit from club membership?

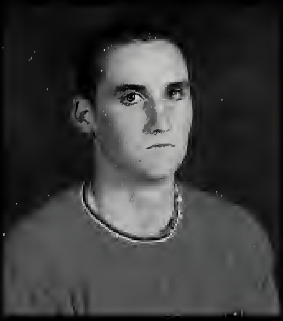
"It helps to know that there are others fighting the same fight."

Tom Campbell

"Being a member of the Science Club gives me the opportunity to learn about different careers in my field of study."

Kayla Loden

"Science Club has taught me the benefits of science and how it is used in everyday life."



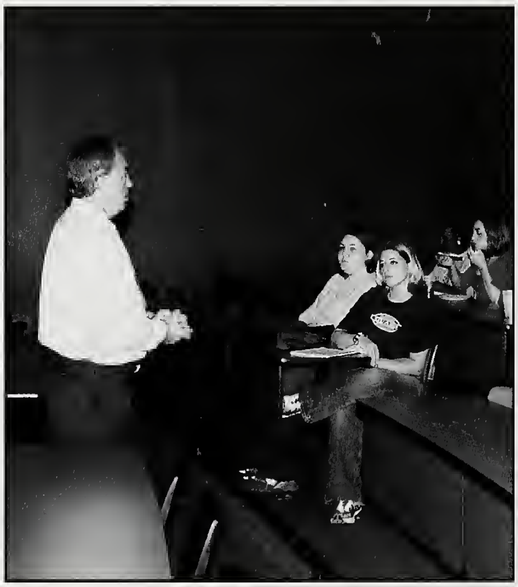
Colin Lindley

Members of the Computer Programming and Networking Association and the Science Club agree that both groups have had an active and exciting year.

Both clubs have listened as guest speakers shared work experiences and tips for entering the work world at their monthly meetings along with food and fellowship with those who share a common interest.

CPNA met the second Wednesday of each month in the Health Occupations Building Lecture Demonstration Room on the Tupelo campus. The 40 members participated in community projects as well as campus activities including Homecoming week competitions. Patrick Medlin, manufacturing information systems manager at Peoploungers in Nettleton, was the speaker for the Nov. 20 meeting. "I believe that you have chosen one of the best fields for your major," Medlin said.

The 15 members of the Science Club met one Tuesday of each month in the Natural Science Building room 110 on the Fulton campus.



Dr. Marvin Wilson, associate dean for academic and student affairs of the School of Pharmacy at the University of Mississippi, speaks to the Science Club on Oct. 8.

Health related Organizations

PTA • Radiologic Technologists • Respiratory Therapists

How did you benefit from club membership?

"It's a lot of hard work, but I really enjoy everything about the program."

John Mark Webb

"Going to clinicals and actually working with patients."

Emily Yates

"Going to the National Student Convention in Birmingham."

Derrick Merriman

Several clubs at Itawamba Community College provide experience for students in the medical-related fields. These include Future Radiologic Technologists, Future Respiratory Therapists and the Physical Therapy Assistant Club.

The Future Respiratory Therapists met several times a semester in the Health Science Building at the Fulton campus. The club had 24 members who participated in Respiratory Care week activities at the North Mississippi Medical Center, Oct. 20-26, and an asthma camp which was the be held during the summer.

The Physical Therapist Assistant Club consisted of 12 members who met once a month. The group attended the APTA student convention in Birmingham, AL and took a field trip to pediatric PT facilities. Officers included Tashia Gilbert, president; Tony Cook, vice president; Craig Coglan, secretary and Salome Whitlock-Williams, treasurer.

Future Radiologic Technologists are students interested in working in the area of radiology. The club included 17 members and was sponsored by Bill May.

Members help Community

Nurses Christian Fellowship • Student Nurses Organization

How did you benefit from club membership?

"It broadened my horizons in what it takes to be in the nursing field."

Tara Hudson

"I gained new experiences in the government part of the field."

Aleta Knox

"It allowed me to be more active in my career field and gain new friends."

April Caldwell

Student Nurses Organization and Nurses Christian Fellowship are health-care related clubs at the Itawamba Community College Fulton campus which are involved with helping the community.

The Student Nurses Organization met monthly during the 2002-03 school year in the Health Science Building. The members attended the Student Nurses Convention in October and held a community coat drive. At the convention which was held in Biloxi, voting delegates Aleta Knox, Becky Hayes and Marcia Knight elected new state officers for 2002-03. They included ICC's April Caldwell, who was named chairperson of council of school presidents and Becky Hayes, ADN representative, north half. In addition, ICC students Wanda McNeese and Donna Pettigo were named as recipients of the two statewide $500 student nursing scholarships presented by AMSouth Bank.

The Nurses Christian Fellowship was organized for the members to receive spiritual insight as well as to provide an opportunity to discuss issues in nursing.

Focusing on Others

Health Occupations Students of America • SHIMA

How did you benefit from club membership?

"By being involved in state competition, we utilized our leadership skills, met new people and broadened our horizons for lifelong achievement."

Carrie Stratton

"Being involved in HOSA has expanded my horizon and knowledge in the expanding health information field."

Brandy Scales

"HOSA has made me realize the importance of a registered Health Information Technician in the medical field."

Samantha McGlown

The Student Health Information Management Association and the Health Occupations Students of America are health-care clubs that focused mainly on helping others this year.

Both organizations are located at the Itawamba Community College Tupelo campus.

SHIMA met monthly, and was involved with several community projects and fund raisers including selling candles, collecting cans and adopting an angel at Christmas.

HOSA is a national organization of health-care students that met monthly in the Health Occupations Building. The members hosted the district HOSA competition on Feb. 21.

Hands on Experience

Phi Beta Lambda • Students in Free Enterprise

How did you benefit from club membership?

"I learned the value of networking."

Candice Wathen

"PBL taught me to develop leadership as well as helped me to develop character."

Rosa McCreary

"I learned the need to enhance marketing skills."

Susan Hodges

Phi Beta Lambda and Students in Free Enterprise are two of the clubs that Itawamba Community College offers to enable students in the business field to have some hands-on experience.

Phi Beta Lambda is a Tupelo campus organization that meets twice each month. Their activities this year included Race for the Cure, March of Dimes Walk America, sponsoring the annual Most Beautiful pageant, painting Homecoming signs and serving as hosts for a statewide Phi Beta Lambda competition as well as the northern district Future Business Leaders of America meeting.

SIFE is an international organization that allows college students to develop teamwork, communication and leadership qualities through learning, teaching and practicing the principles of free enterprise. The group met twice a month on the Fulton campus. Members presented educational programs to children in ICC's five-county district, produced public service announcements and prepared for regional competion that was held in Memphis, Tenn. at the Peabody Hotel, Apr. 1. The team presented a 20-minute PowerPoint presentation of the year's events before a board of corporate executives.

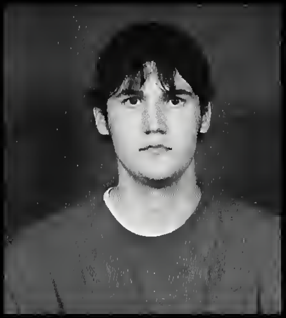
Students lead Campuses

Student Court • Student Government Association

How did you benefit from club membership?

"Being chief justice of Student Court has given me the opportunity to ensure that justice is carried out for my fellow students."

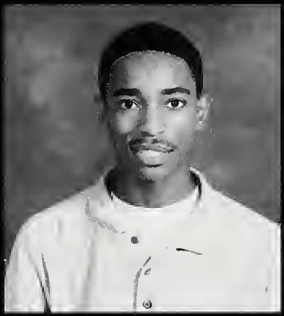


Ben Sumerford

"Student Government Association has allowed me to have an impact on issues affecting the student body."

Braden Bishop

"I've learned many leadership skills from being a member of SGA, to one day use again in my future career."



Justin Alexander

The Student Government Association and Student Court at Itawamba Community College offer great leadership opportunities and a chance to learn about government.

The governing bodies of the Fulton and Tupelo campuses is the SGA.

The officers of the Student Government Association are elected by the student body, the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer in the spring, and the representatives in the fall. The officers met weekly to discuss problems and suggest new ideas. Among them were the election of a who's who during the spring semester. The Student Government Association sponsored several activities including Homecoming week with the sale of T-shirts, Indian Week and the food drive which benefitted the Itawamba County Food Pantry.

The organization that is in charge of hearing and deciding student appeals is Student Court. Chief Justice Ben Sumerford said that the group met when they were needed. The members were elected by the Student Government Association.

Achieving honor Status

Phi Theta Kappa

How did you benefit from club membership?

"Intelligent conversation."

Heath Capps

"I now have college opportunities that we not open before."

John Showers

"I have made new and lasting friendships."

Marie Wright

Phi Theta Kappa, the honor society for two-year colleges, focuses on achievements in academic excellence as well as fellowship, scholarship, leadership and service.

The Upsilon Sigma chapter at Itawamba Community College participated in several of these areas during 2002-03 including a food drive, Founder's Day, the Great American Smokeout, book drives, angel tree, toy drives and sponsoring Honors Day in the spring. Chapter members celebrated Founder's Day by serving a continental breakfast to the faculty and staff and cake to the students.

The group also raised money for the American Cancer Society.

Members, who are honor students, provided tutors for those students who need some assistance in areas such as algebra, biology and anatomy and physiology.

A primary fundraiser for the group was a cheese sale for which the money will be used for a trip in the spring.

Membership is open to students with grade point averages of 3.5 or higher.

Members promote College

Indian Delegation • Modeling Squad

How did you benefit from club membership?

"Indian Delegation has enabled me to make new frineds and have assisted high school seniors in their college decision-making process."

Mallory Torres

"ICC has given me so much -- an education, friendships and a lifetime of memories. Indian Delegation allows me to give back to ICC."

Katie Vaughn

"The Modeling Squad is a great experience and an excellent way to meet new people."

Tracy Leslie

Itawamba Community College's Indian Delegation and Modeling Squad promote the college through recruiting, modeling and positive representation.

The Modeling Squad met Mondays at 5 p.m. The members modeled at the ICC Fulton campus, Wal-Mart and the Mall at Barnes Crossing in Tupelo. Judith Naden served as sponsor.

Indian Delegation was composed of students from both the Fulton and Tupelo campuses. During 2002-03, members assisted with open registration, help stations to enable students to locate classes on the first day, and various special events held on both campuses.

Members of the Indian Delegation attended college days at area high schools to recruit for Itawamba Community College as well as guided tours for high school students that were interested in ICC. A new project for the year was serving as hosts for the ICC-sponsored Career Expo held at the BancorpSouth Center in Tupelo, October 30.

Indian Delegation members started the year with a two-day intensive training session. Sponsors were Brad Boggs and Allyson Cummings.

Using your Talent

Kaleidoscope

How did you benefit from Kaleidoscope?

"I like getting out of class and playing drums."

Jason Clark

"I enjoy being able to sing and especially performing for elementary school children."

Brittainy Childers

"Learning lots from the great Clint Reid and Jim Hawkins."

Luke Washburn

At Itawamba Community College, a good way to make new friends each year is to be a part of Kaleidoscope, contemporary music group.

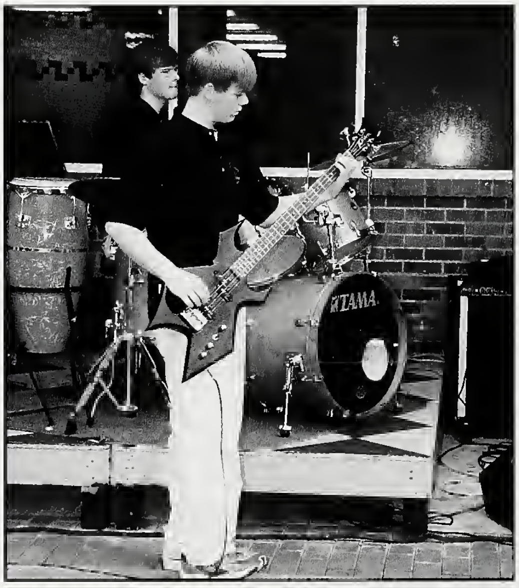
By combining harmonious voices and excellent playing ability, ICC's Kaleidoscope was a show stopping experience this year.

The 2002-03 edition of the pop music revue was in its 29th season with a new program featuring new and returning members.

The group performed at ICC's Homecoming on Oct. 26, at the Tupelo campus for several events including the Back-to-School Bash, and at Caledonia and various other high schools in the area. The group also presented campus concerts on October 7, 2002 and April 14, 2003 in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center Auditorium.

While taking its show on the road, Kaleidoscope performed many chart-topping hits including "Man of Constant Sorrow," "I'm a Believer," "I Will Survive," "Respect," "Sweet Home Alabama," and "Eric's Song."

Jerry and Robyn Cogdell served as directors of the group.



Duston Moore concentrates on playing his bass guitar while Wes Wages keeps the beat going on the trapset.

Tim Coker on trombone, Jason Clark on congas and Wade Winters on guitar play one of the many songs performed by Kaleidoscope.

Clint Reid and Corey Moore sing "Man of Constant Sorrow" at a Kaleidoscope concert.

Creativity at Work

Modern Language • Projections • Sign Language • Student Art League

How did you benefit from club membership?

"I learned about different countries and their cultures."

Sheena Barnett

"I met other artists who helped guide me in my career choice."

Josh Butler

IT'S UP TO ME! TO BE DRUG FREE!!!

"It allowed me to express myself through writing, especially in poetry, and gave me the ability to grow through constructive criticism."

Debra Kordik

Several clubs at Itawamba Community College give members insight into language and art, and this year was no exception.

The clubs include the Modern Language Club, Sign Language Club, Projections and the Student Art League. They all focused on an opportunity for members to interact with different students.

The Modern Language Club met the third Friday of each month in room 10 of the Business Education Building at noon. This year, the group won its category of the Homecoming sign competition, adopted a family during Christmas and regularly had guest speakers at their meetings.

The Sign Language Club had seven members. The group met on the third Wednesday of each month in room 8 of the Business Education Building at noon. They attended a convention in Lexington, KY and a workshop for American Sign Language.

Projections, which focused on creative writing, held open meetings to all students on the last Monday of each month during C period. The group promoted writing competitions which were open to all Itawamba Community College students.

Students enjoy Fellowship

Baptist Student Union • FCA • Gospel Sounds • Wesley Foundation

How did you benefit from club membership?

"Meeting new friends and gaining lasting relationships with them."

Lee Ann Wilson

"The BSU has been a positive influence and helped me to meet many new people."

Britt Clark

"Being a member of the BSU helped me to meet Christian friends and enjoy fun and fellowship."

Anna Strickland

Members of the Baptist Student Union, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Gospel Sounds and the Wesley Foundation had an awesome year.

The Baptist Student Union met every Wednesday at noon for the luncheon. Chris Burrows sponsored the organization which kicked off its year with its annual water party. Other activities included the Scream Team and the Worship Team, a mission trip in the spring and presentations at area churches.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes met Tuesdays at 8:30 p.m. in the Lecture Demonstration Room. The sponsor was Coach Jeff Terrill.

The Gospel Sounds met every Monday at 7 p.m. in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center and practiced for its annual concert as well as performances that the group presented in the area. Coach Carrie Ball was the sponsor.

The Wesley Foundation met every Monday in Banquet Room 1 for a luncheon devotional and on Tuesday nights at the new center for a home-cooked meal and devotional. The sponsor was Rev. Tom Potter.

Students record Memories

How did you benefit from staff membership?

"It allows me to keep up with what is going on at ICC."

Leslie Wilson

"It gives me something to do in my spare time, and it keeps me involved."

Amy Sullivan

"It allows me to be a part of ICC, to make new friends and do new things."

Susan Whitfield

This year's Mirror staff was led by editor Marie Wright and advisor Donna Thomas. Staff members included Susan Whitfield, Claire Boyd, Miranda Perry, Samantha Payne, Leticia Nelson, Natalie Mooneyham, Amy Sullivan, Candice Wathen, Zoe Buckingham, Heath Capps, Brittainy Childers, Anna Davis, Lezlie East, Gahavonni Gaston, Leah Hutcheson, Anna Strickland, Courtney Springer, Jennifer Saraco, Julie Rogers, Berkley Warnick, Jennifer Westcott, Kris Whitehead, Heather Wilson, Leslie Wilson, Melissa Warren, Ashley Dill, Melissa Marion, Jutima Simsiriwong, Amanda Pitts and Kenneth Floyd.

A staff meeting was held at the beginning of the school year where staff members selected their pages. Then, it was time to go to work toward the four deadlines -- October 22, November 19, December 17 and February 4.

Even though the first deadline wasn't until October, work on the book began as early as June when pictures were made of the freshmen during orientation. Throughout the semester, other photos were made of club activities, sports, performances and residence hall life. Photographs were cropped and labeled, and stories and headlines written.

Keeping students Informed

Chieftain

How did you benefit from staff membership?

"It gives me an opportunity to meet and work with new people."

Christal Brock

"It allows me to learn new things, work with computers and get involved in campus activities."

Amber Sartain

"I am able to keep up with current events, and it allows me to get involved in what goes on at school."

Sara Murphy

Itawamba Community College's campus newspaper, the Chieftain, once again kept students informed about campus life and activities this year. The paper is written and put together by a group of students who are either journalism majors or ones who just like to write and be involved in campus activities. The staff was composed of editor Christal Brock, Jamie Arrexi, Wilson Beck, Heath Capps, Della Cunningham, Anna David, Justin Kay, Les Nerren, Blake Nichols, Sheena Barnett, Sara Murphy, Adam Northam, Chase Parham, Amber Sartain, Christen Bland, Sheletha Virges, Josh Palmer, Ben Sumerford, Tasha Jefferies and Carrie Hill.

The staff produced a paper every month for students on both the Fulton and Tupelo campuses. The broadsheet included Viewpoints, Across Campus, Entertainment and Sports as well as the Campus Calendar of Events which allowed students to keep up with important dates. The Chieftain also featured an opinion poll question each month so that students could voice their opinions on various subjects.

The Chieftain not only enabled students to know what is going on, but it also provided an opportunity for the writers to gain experience and knowledge about the vast field of journalism.

ICC's Motown Music

All-American Band

How did you benefit from band membership?

"By being the first guy on the color guard, I hope that I have opened a door for others to be themselves in spite of what others say."

Garyon Judon

"I've enjoyed the musical experience; it has allowed me to shake my groove thing and to discover that musicians are really secret agents."

Amanda Stegall

"Humidity, sore muscles, hungry and irritated people mixed with music, rhythm and melodies baked at temps around 90 degrees."

Gary Sorrells

The Itawamba Community College Marching Band, under the direction of David East, Cass Patrick and Cathy Steele, saluted Motown with its rendition of "Respect," "Papa Was a Rolling Stone," "Shake a Tail Feather," "Cat Scratch Fever" and "Higher and Higher."

Led on the field by Elizabeth Kidd of Pontotoc, Marie Wright of Amory, and Sarah Hill of Thaxton, the Itawamba band was a tremendous success, based on crowd response to its halftime shows at the college's football games in the fall.

The captains for this year's color guard were Ashley Dill of Hamilton, Anna Lindsey of Sherman, Melissa Marion of Amory and Erin Witcher of Nettleton.

Drum captains consisted of Matt Brashier of New Albany and Eric Perry of Belmont.

Lynsee Brown of Hamilton, Alabama, Kayla Plunk of Pontotoc and Jennifer Pounders of Caledonia were the Indianette captains.

Marching On Together

All-American Band

How did you benefit from band membership?

"Going to the Northeast game in the rain."

Jessica Buchanan

"Band is about the same as it's always been."

Duston Moore

"The highlight would be making the Symphonic Band for the second year."

Justine Crosby

This year, as if performing at the four home football games on Lambert Field on the Fulton campus were not enough, Itawamba Community College's All-American Marching Band also traveled and performed at the football game between the Northeast Tigers and the Indians in Booneville and the state marching contest at Tupelo High School during October.

Also, the group performed at six Christmas parades during the first week of December -- Amory, Houston, Fulton, Tupelo, Ecru and Aberdeen. . .and if that weren't enough. . .The Tupelo and Ecru parades were on the same day.

For the first time ever, ICC's Symphonic Band and Jazz Band accompanied the ICC choir in a Christmas concert, which was held Dec. 4 in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center Auditorium on the Fulton campus.

In addition to accompanying each other, each group performed several pieces individually.

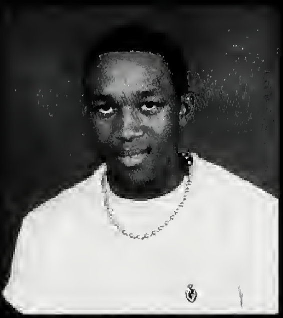
Earning Standing Ovations

Brass, Percussion and Woodwind Ensembles, Jazz Band

How did you benefit from band membership?



"When we went to Biloxi."

Jermaine Morgan

"Dr. Patrick's sarcastic humor is one of the highlights of Woodwind Ensemble."

Ashley Allday

"Percussion ensemble has helped tremendously in counting rhythms and the endings always crack people up."

Matt Brashier

Instrumental groups at Itawamba Community College consisted of the Brass Ensemble, Percussion Ensemble, Woodwind Ensemble and the Jazz Band. Each ensemble practiced two days a week and performed at a concert during the fall.

For the second time in 50 years, a community college was asked to play at the Mississippi Band Masters Association Clinic in Biloxi, and it was Itawamba Community College's very own Jazz Band.

Consisting of 21 members, the group performed Dec. 12 in front of 400 high school students and 200 band directors from across the state.

The show included "John Brown's Other Body," "Woodchopper's Ball," and "Theme and Variations."

Vocalists were featured in "All of Me," "When I Fall in Love" and "Corvado." "Tenor Madness" and "Don't Get Around Much Anymore" concluded their pieces.

Their hard work was "applauded" with the most outstanding accomplishment for an instrumentalist -- a standing ovation!

Brass Ensemble: Trey Ellison, Jermaine Morgan, Kevin Hester.

Woodwind Ensemble: front, Amanda Stegall, Ashley Allday, Brittany Hood; back, Chris Darracott, Melissa Marion, Jessica Buchanan, Justine Crosby.

Students enjoy Singing

How did you benefit from choir membership?

"Chorus makes my life enjoyable because it offers me a time to reflect on the finer things in life...and it gets my mind off of my hard classes."

John Showers

"Involvement has not only encouraged me in improving my vocal abilities but has also increased my love for music ."

Katie Vaughn

"Singing with a group of different people and having Mrs. Davis as a director."

ICC Wesley Fo

Amanda Niswonger

The choir at Itawamba Community College presented several performances during 2002-2003, and members agreed it was a great year.

Under the direction of Karen Davis, the group participated in the Homecoming activities on October 26 by singing the National Anthem prior to the start of the ICC/Mississippi Delta football game.

During the fall semester, members of the choir learned their music and practiced for the Christmas concert, which was held Dec. 4 in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center Auditorium.

In February, the choir participated in the Community College Choral Festival at Hinds Community College in Raymond.

And, at the end of March, the ICC choir performed the Faure Requiem with the Tupelo Symphony Orchestra chorus.

Near the end of the 2002-03 school year, the choir performed at several churches in ICC's five-county district which included Chickasaw, Itawamba, Lee and Monroe.

A joyful noise

How did you benefit from choir membership?

"The choir has been a great experience. It's been rewarding to work hard and accomplish so much while still having fun."

Sara Beth Lewis

"Socializing and spending another year with old members and meeting new ones."

April Caldwell

"It enhanced my vocal ability by giving me the opportunity to perform difficult literature and explore different languages."

Garyon Judon

The ICC choir presented its fall concert in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Auditorium on December 4, 2002.

Several musical talents of ICC combined for the concert. The choir performed "Christmas Festival" and "Christmas Portrait" with the ICC symphonic band. In addition, the choir sang two other songs, "And the Glory of the Lord" by Handel and "Masters in this Hall" arranged by Parker/Shaw.

The mixed vocal ensemble was also busy this year. The group sang at the Welcome Center in Tremont and for the Mooreville High School music department.

At the ensemble concert on November 19, the ensemble performed three madrigal pieces.

And, at the Christmas concert, they sang "Winter Wonderland" with the jazz band.

Members of the ensemble include Ginger Clark, Heather Gausline, April Caldwell, Crystal Brock, Kristen Holland, Sara Beth Lewis, Avita Hall, Amanda Dull, Amber Reese, Eric Perry, Garyon Judon, Sam Henderson, Matthew Brashier and Kem Coleman.

Musical is Success

"She Loves Me"

What did you enjoy about the production?

"Watching the characters emerge from the people who portrayed them."

Kem Coleman

"It benefitted me in several ways, but the most was another opportunity to share with others the gifts God has blessed me with."

Garyon Judon

"Getting to dress up in the costumes."

Eric Perry

ICC's spring production, "She Loves Me," was presented at the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center, April 11-13, at 7 p.m. at the Fulton Campus.

The musical, set in the 1930s, included the cast of Clint Reid, Tracey Tennison, Anna Carter, Mary Beth Nanney, Chelsi Lockhart, Garyon Judon, Casey Dillard, Kem Coleman, Daniel Sansing, Eric Perry, Jason Beasley, Derrick Winsett, Mechelle Sinningson, Christy Simpson, Andrea Jay, Josh Green, Sarah Kolenda, Beth Williams and Luke Washburn.

"She Loves Me" is based on a book by Joe Masteroff with music by Jerry Bock and lyrics by Sheldon Harnick.

William Thompson, who reviewed the production for ICC's newspaper, Chieftain, called the production "one of those musicals that gives you a general good feeling and a drive to go and hold the ones you love."

He also said "it was a light and lively show that beautifully coincided with the calm, clear spring night."

Al Cutturini was the director.

A look at our students

Students at Itawamba Community College found ways to have fun on both campuses while getting acquainted. This year, students played games in the Student Activities Center, worked in classrooms and joined a variety of organizations on both the Fulton and Tupelo campuses. Some students lived away from home for the first time while others logged miles in the daily commute.

Colette James, Krista McCollough, Victory Lowe and Sandy Williams compare schedules at the Fulton campus. Counselor Mande Miller helps Amanda Phillips during open registration in the gym.

Math instructor Judy Griffie lectures to Michelle Clark, Brooke Mabus, Jennifer Mills and Charla McFadden.

Laura Wells takes a few minutes to review her notes before going to class.

Cole leads Itawamba since '93

Continually strives to improve ICC.

Since becoming ICC's fourth president on January 1, 1993, Dr. David C. Cole has strived to improve ICC and experienced great success with growth in enrollment and in facilities. He quickly credits ICC's reputation as one of Mississippi's leading community colleges in the state to faculty and staff.

"I feel that my years at ICC have been full of challenges as well as accomplishments. In the future, I will continue my work with faculty, staff and students to ensure ICC fulfills its mission to provide quality education in our community," Cole said.

A native of Enid, he earned degrees from The University of Mississippi.

He is married to the former Betty Ross Darby.

ICC's reputation may be reason for enrollment jump

Community colleges offer an innumerable amount of benefits, and if this year's enrollment is any indication, Itawamba Community College's students know that.

This year's numbers leap may have something to do with ICC's reputation for an excellent education at an unbeatable cost.

Vice president for instruction Dr. Charles Chrestman speculated that one important benefit is ICC's personable reputation. Instructors at community colleges, Itawamba especially, treat students as people instead of "just another number." Students at ICC, Chrestman said, have a better communication with instructors and, therefore, feel they learn more.

Another year has slipped by at Itawamba Community Colleg. Even with pending budget cuts looming overhead, the college still progressed. The construction of Chickasaw Hall, the male honors residence hall, began with occupancy expected this fall. Also, in early January, the Mississippi Legislature passed an education appropriation bill increasing community college budgets.

Fear of war, mourning of Columbia astronauts highlight news.

The news of 2002-03 was innundated with stories of the possibility of military action against Iraq until the day the nation mourned the death of seven of its own with the tragedy of the spaceship Columbia.

However, the possibility of war is not the only event that made headlines.

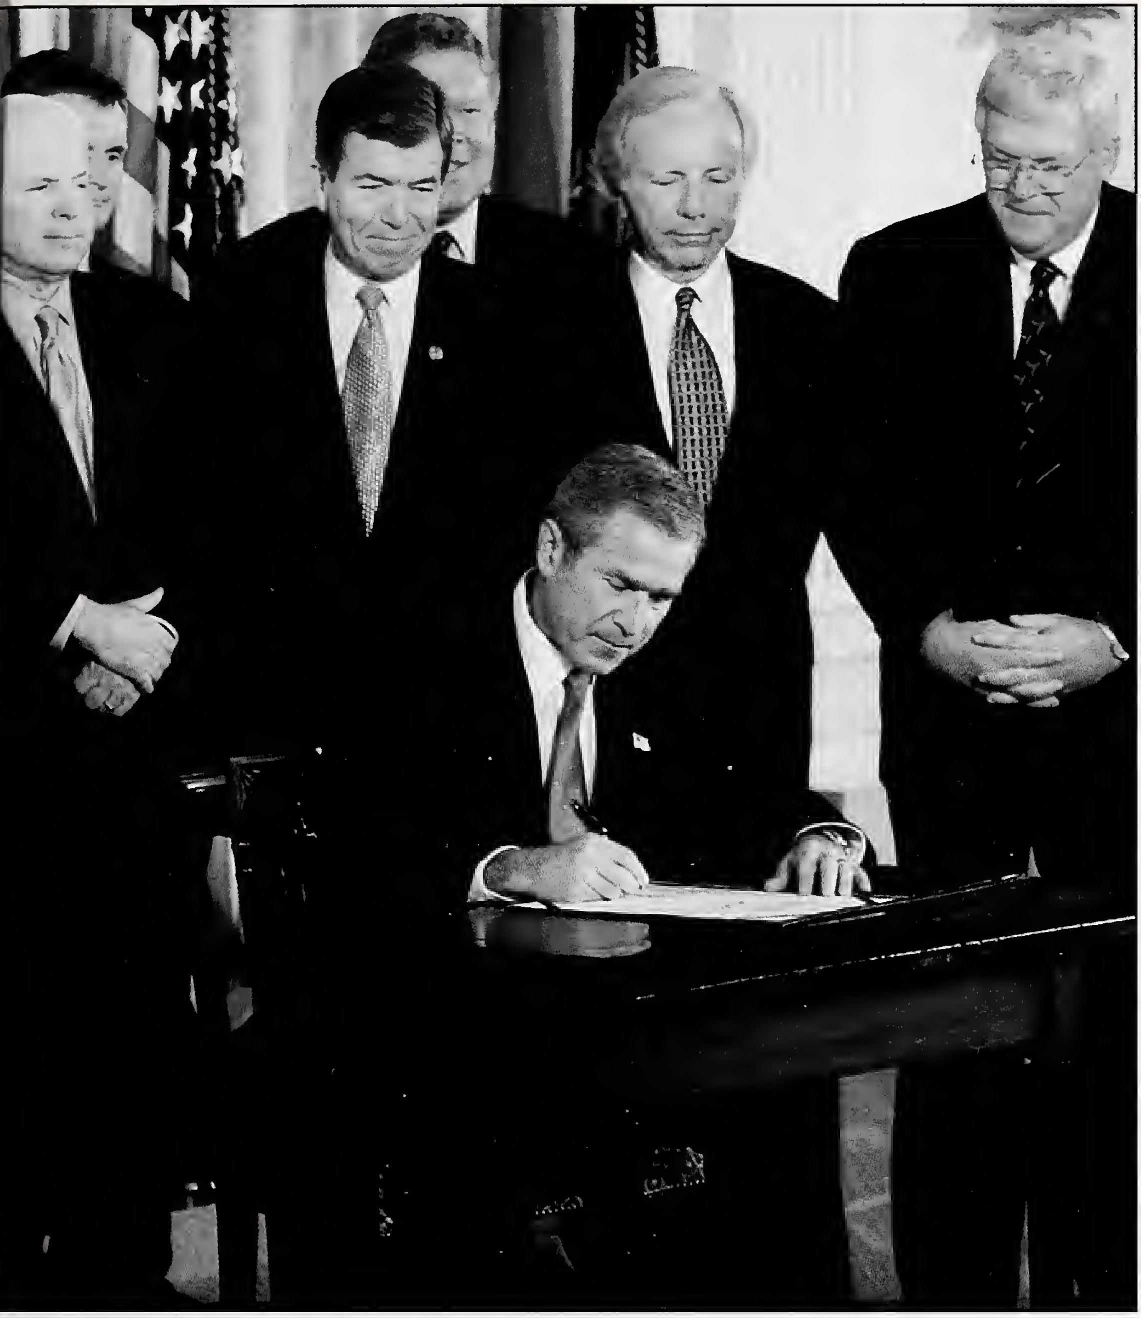
Wall Street Journal reporter Daniel Pearl was kidnapped and murdered by Islamic fundamentalists. . .two snipers killed 10 people in the Washington, D.C. area. . .and the Enron scandal revealed executives had knowingly cost shareholders billions of dollars.

The morning of February 1, 2003, the United States and Israel were stunned and saddened when the spacecraft Columbia exploded upon reentry, leaving a trail of debris from Texas to Louisiana.

Top photo, The car belonging to two suspected snipers in the Washington, DC area is moved into a facility in Rockville, Md. President George Bush celebrates the 100th birthday of Sen. Strom Thurmond at the White House with Vice President Dick Cheney, Sen. Trent Lott, former President George H.W. Bush, and his daughter, Julie Thurmond Whitmer, Dec. 6. Thurmond is now America's first centernarian senator.

A mourner kneels at ground zero, Sept. 11, in New York, during ceremonies to mark the one-year anniversary of the Sept. 11 attacks.

Former President Jimmy Carter receives the 2002 Nobel Peace Prize in Oslo City Hall, Norway, Dec. 10.



President George W. Bush signs a resolution authorizing the use of force against Iraq, Oct. 16, in the East Room of the White House. Bush summoned dozens of lawmakers to the White House to accept formally Congress's go-ahead for military action against Iraq, hoping that a tableau of a unified America would help win over hesitant allies. From left, Sen. Jesse Helms, Sen. John Warner, Sen. John McCain, Rep. Roy Blunt, Sen. Joseph Lieberman, Speaker of the House Dennis Hastert, Rep. Tom Lantos and Sen. Joseph Biden participate in the signing.

Miners on the surface reach out to shake hands with the fourth miner as he is lifted from the hole in the capsule at the Quecreek mine, July 28. The nine miners had been trapped for three days.

Paul Burrell, former butler to Princess Diana, gives a thumbs-up to the media as he leaves London's Old Bailey court, Nov. 1. Theft charges were dropped against him after Queen Elizabeth II revealed that she knew he took the items for safekeeping. The case had fascinated Britain and put personal details of Diana's life on public view.

The charred ruins of a bomb blast in Denpasar, Bali, Indonesia, Oct. 13, are where a nightclub was destroyed, killing more than 180 people and injuring more than 300 others.

Any way you look at it

Notables make the news in sports and entertainment.

In entertainment news of 2002-2003, Halle Berry became the first black actress to earn an Academy Award in a lead role for "Monster's Ball."

The Osbournes became a "reality sitcom" revealing the life of a heavy-metal rock family, and actress Winona Ryder was convicted of grand theft and vandalism. Ray Ramano, who performed at the Endowment for Excellence event in Amory, won an Emmy for outstanding lead actor in a comedy series.

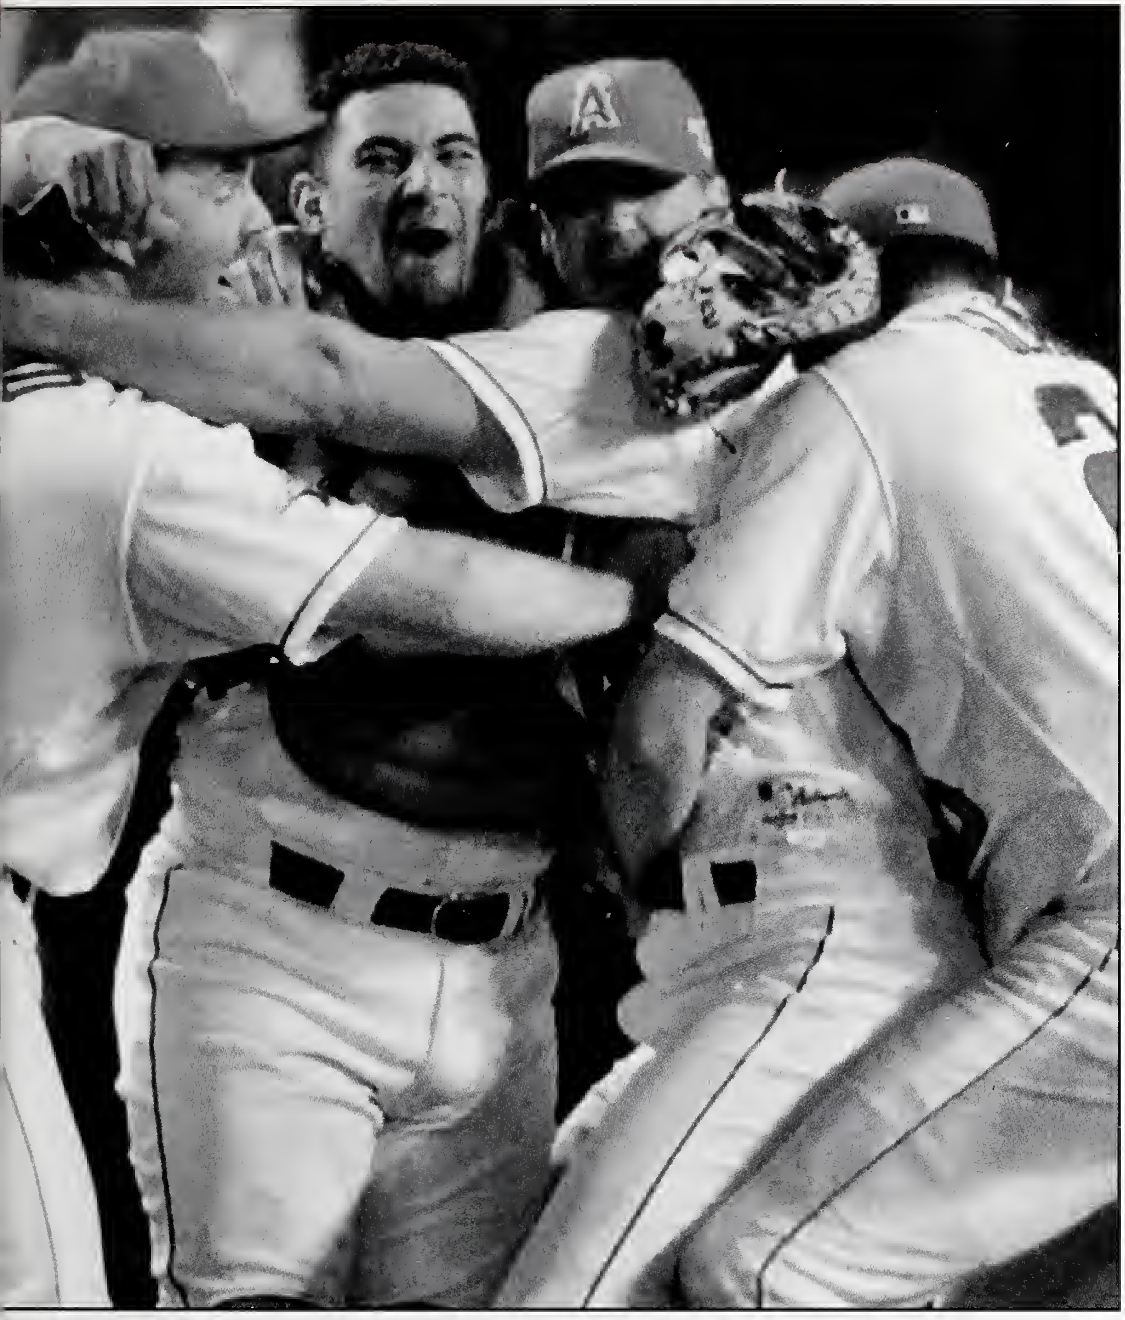
In sports, Sarah Hughes, a 16-year-old from New York, won the Olympic gold medal for figure skating. The Anaheim Angels won the World Series in Anaheim, Calif., Oct. 27, and Lance Armstrong celebrated his fourth consecutive victory in the Tour de France.

Among notables who died were former baseball great Ted Williams, advice columnist Ann Landers and singer Lisa Lopes, who died in a car crash in Honduras.

Top photo, Jennifer Anniston accepts her award for outstanding lead actress in a comedy series for her work in "Friends," during the 54th annual Primetime Emmy Awards, Sept. 22.
"American Idol" finalists Justin Guarini of Doylestown, Pa. and Kelly Clarkson of Burleson, Tex. pose backstage during the MTV Video Music Awards. Clarkson won the competition.

Lance Armstrong celebrates his fourth consecutive victory in the Tour de France in Paris, July 28. Armstrong defeated Joseba Beloki of Spain by 7 minutes, 17 seconds.

Members of the Osbourne family pose as they arrive at the 54th Annual Primetime Emmy Awards. From left are Kelly, Ozzy, Sharon and family friend Robert Marcato, whose mother died of cancer.



Anaheim Angels, from left, Scott Spiezio, Bengie Molina, Troy Percival and Troy Glaus react after the Angels won the World Series in Anaheim, Calif., Oct. 27.

Serena Williams holds up her winning trophy after finishing the women's final at the U.S. Open tennis tournament, Sept. 7, in New York.

Colophon

In February, the final pages of the Mirror were shipped to Taylor Publishing Company's plant in Dallas, Texas. The 2000 copies were produced there and shipped by truck to the Itawamba Community College Fulton campus. Greg Williams, Taylor's sales representative, assisted with the production of the 9″ x 12″ book.

The book was produced on 100 pound enamel paper with Smyth binding. The cover was done in blue #452. The title/theme and logo was silkscreened in red and foil stamped in silver. The primary fonts were Bern and Malibu.

Photographs were made by ICC's photographer Merlin Conoway. A special thanks goes to both Donna Thomas, advisor, and Susan Garrison, public relations assistant, for proofreading and helping with every page. A special appreciation is also given to the staff members who worked on their pages to correct and complete them for deadlines. We would also like to thank Charlie and Tommie McCarthy for the use of their home for the Hall of Fame and Mr. and Miss ICC pictures.

″Look at Us Now″ was the theme for this edition. It was selected to signify ICC's new logo and progress made on campus this year.

We hope that you have enjoyed this look back into the past in the opening section as well as ahead into the present in the rest of the book.
